

PITCHING

Individual work
20%
Week 7 - 9
3 - 5 mins per person

The background features decorative geometric shapes in the corners. The top-right corner has a yellow semi-circle and a blue semi-circle. The bottom-right corner has a blue semi-circle, a yellow semi-circle, a green semi-circle, and a red semi-circle. The bottom-left corner has a green semi-circle, a blue semi-circle, a red semi-circle, and a green semi-circle. The top-left corner has a red semi-circle, a green semi-circle, a blue semi-circle, and a red semi-circle.

ICE - BREAKER

GOOD VS BAD

PRESENTATION VIDEO

(CLICK HERE)

CONTENT

1. WHAT IS PITCHING?
2. SIGNPOSTING LANGUAGE
3. BODY LANGUAGE AND GESTURES
4. STRESS AND TONE

WHAT IS A PITCH?

A business pitch is a structured and concise presentation that communicates your ideas, products, or services to a specific audience with the goal of achieving a desired outcome.

It is your opportunity to showcase the unique value you bring to the table and persuade your audience to take action, whether that means investing in your business, partnering with you, or buying your product.

WHAT IS A PITCH?

1. A COMPELLING STORY

2. ORGANIZED INFORMATION

3. CONFIDENT DELIVERY

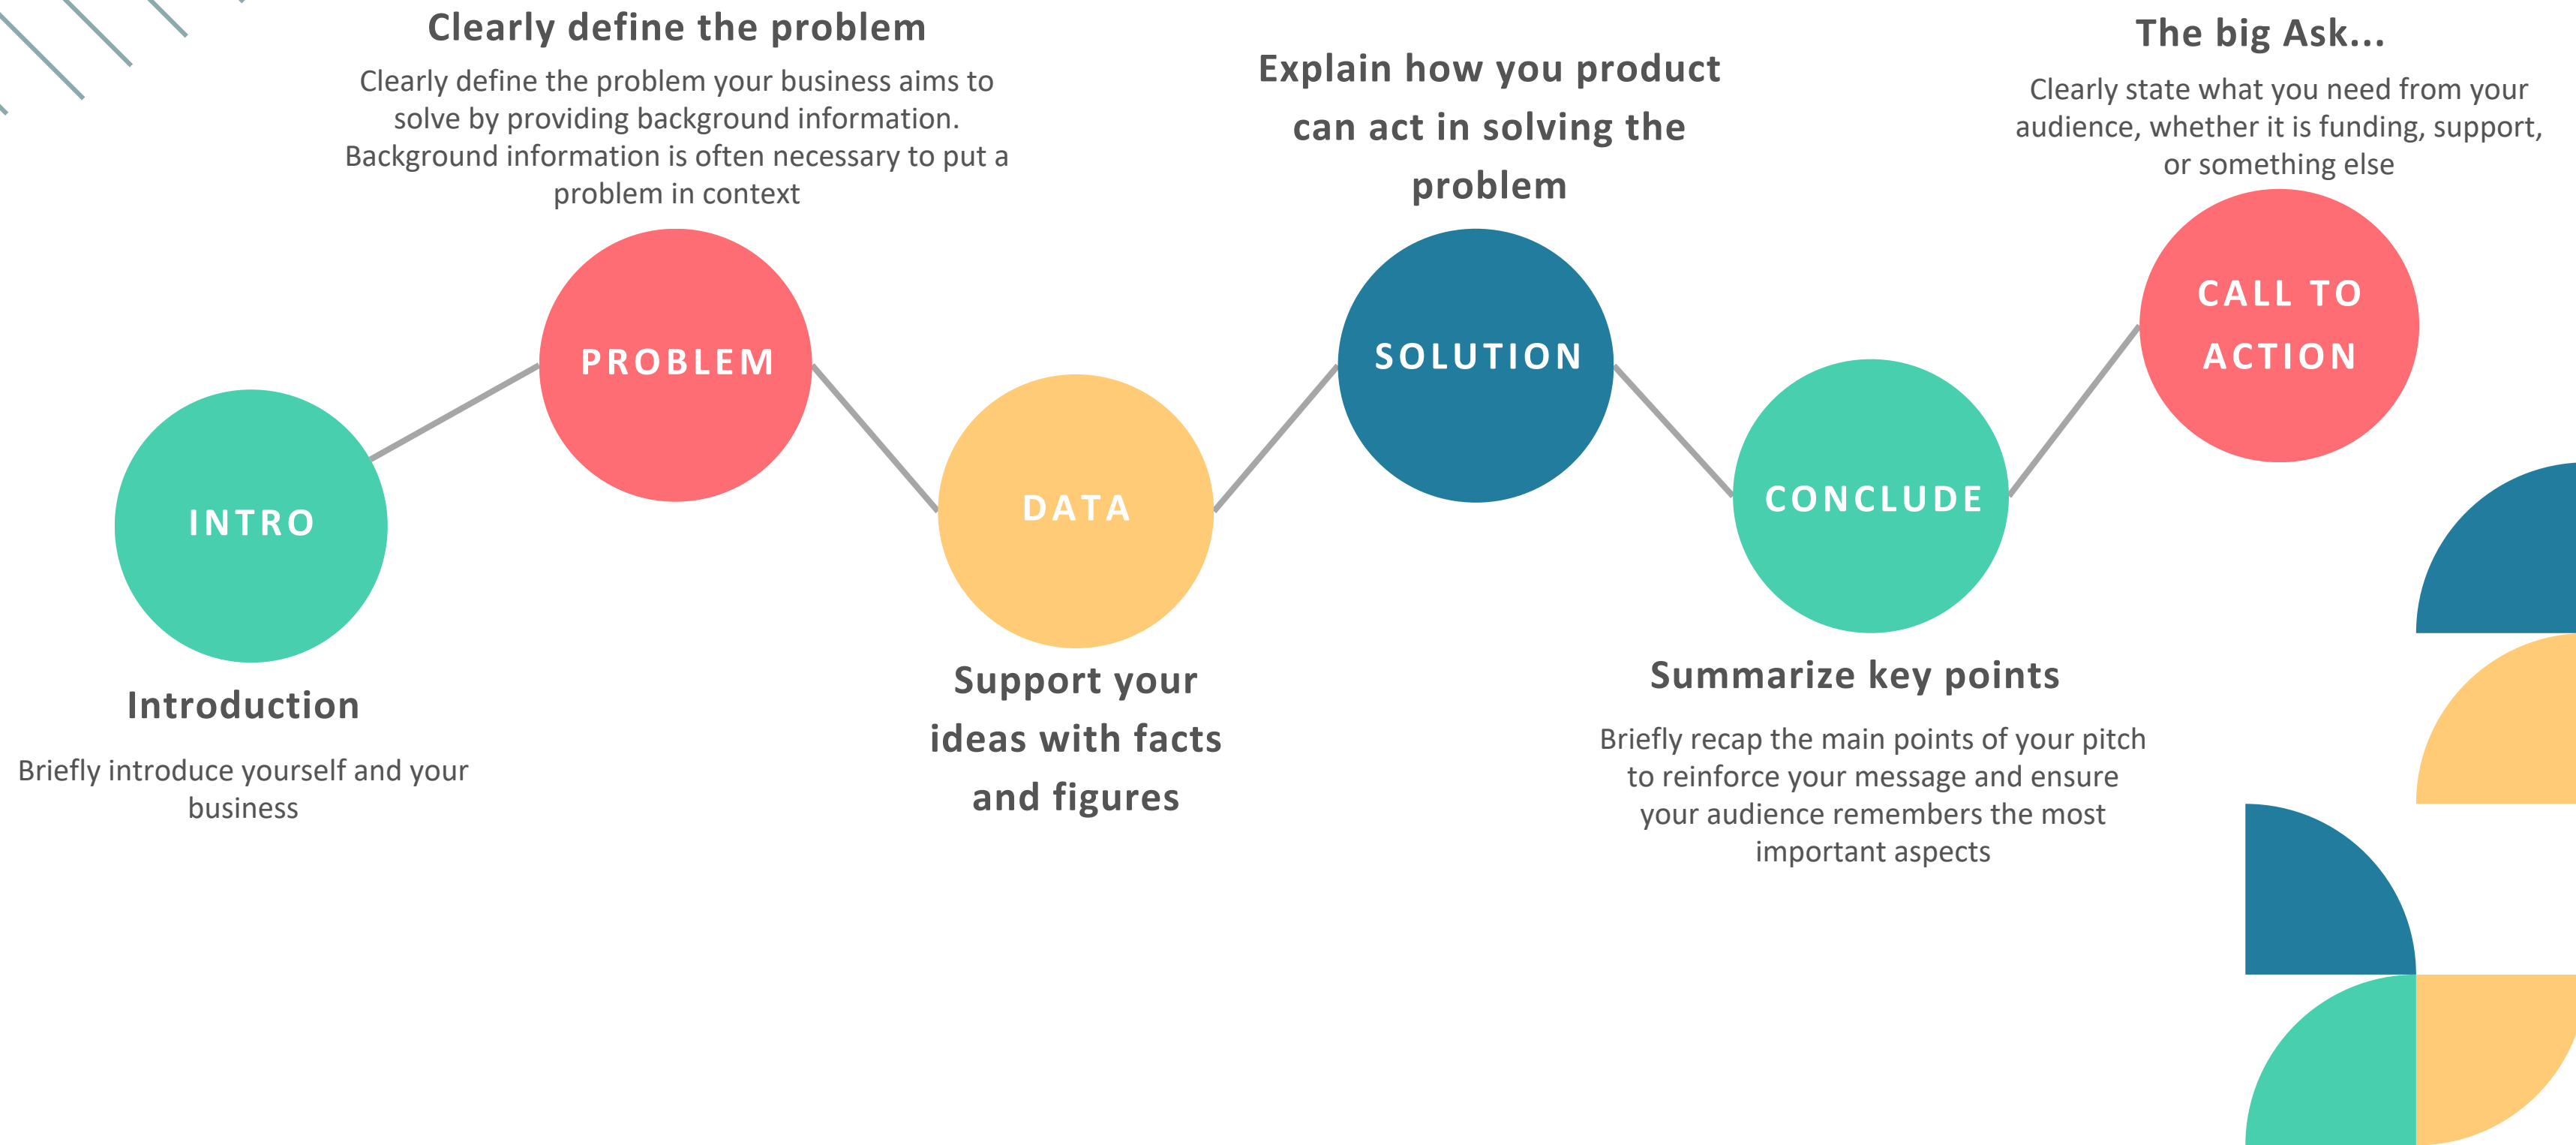

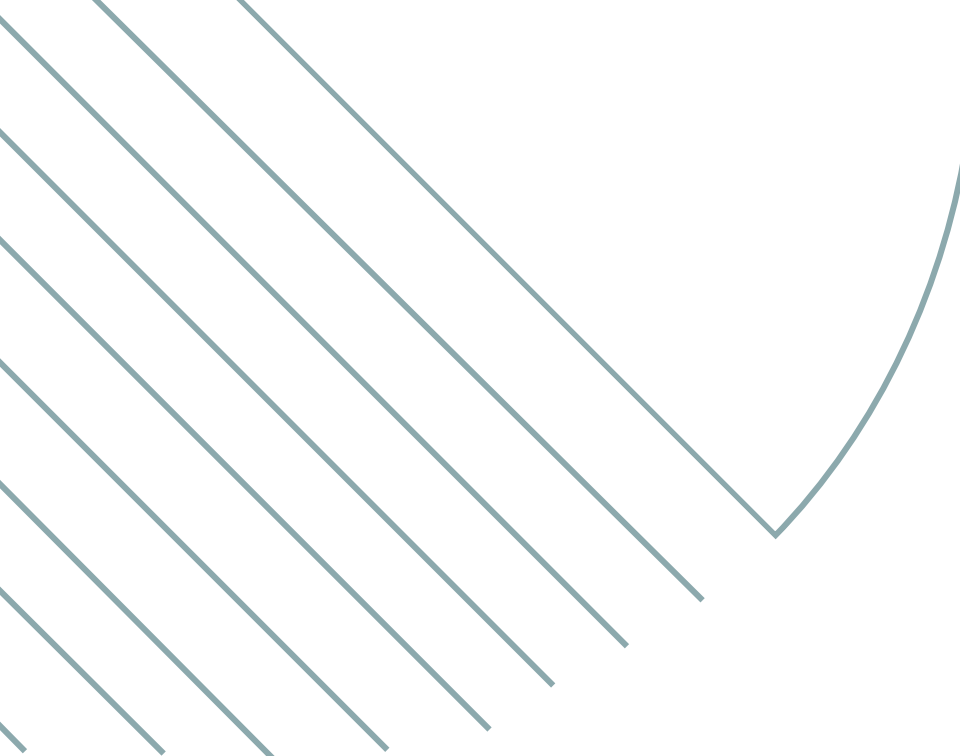

CRAFT A COMPELLING STORY ABOUT YOUR PRODUCT

A well-crafted pitch is not just about presenting facts and figures; It is also about telling a compelling story that engages your audience and makes them excited about your vision.

HOW TO CRAFT A COMPELLING STORY ABOUT YOUR PRODUCT

SIGNPOSTING LANGUAGE

ORGANIZE YOUR PRESENTATION BY USING SIGNPOSTING LANGUAGE

Speakers signpost by using transitional words and phrases in lectures and presentations. This helps them guide the listener through what they are saying now and what they will say next.

You can use signposting throughout your talk to help the audience understand the talks structure such as when you are giving an example starting a new topic or making a conclusion.

EXAMPLES OF SIGNPOSTING LANGUAGE

TO GIVE AN EXAMPLE

- For example
- To illustrate

TO START A NEW TOPIC

- Next
- Now
- I am going to talk about

TO MAKE A CONCLUSION

- In conclusion
- To sum up

LOOK AT THIS SIGNPOSTING LANGUAGE BELOW.

MATCH THE PHRASES ON THE LEFT TO THE PURPOSE THEY SERVE IN YOUR PITCH.

a. Moving on now to

b. That is all I have to say on that point

c. But what does this mean for...?

d. I would like to recap...

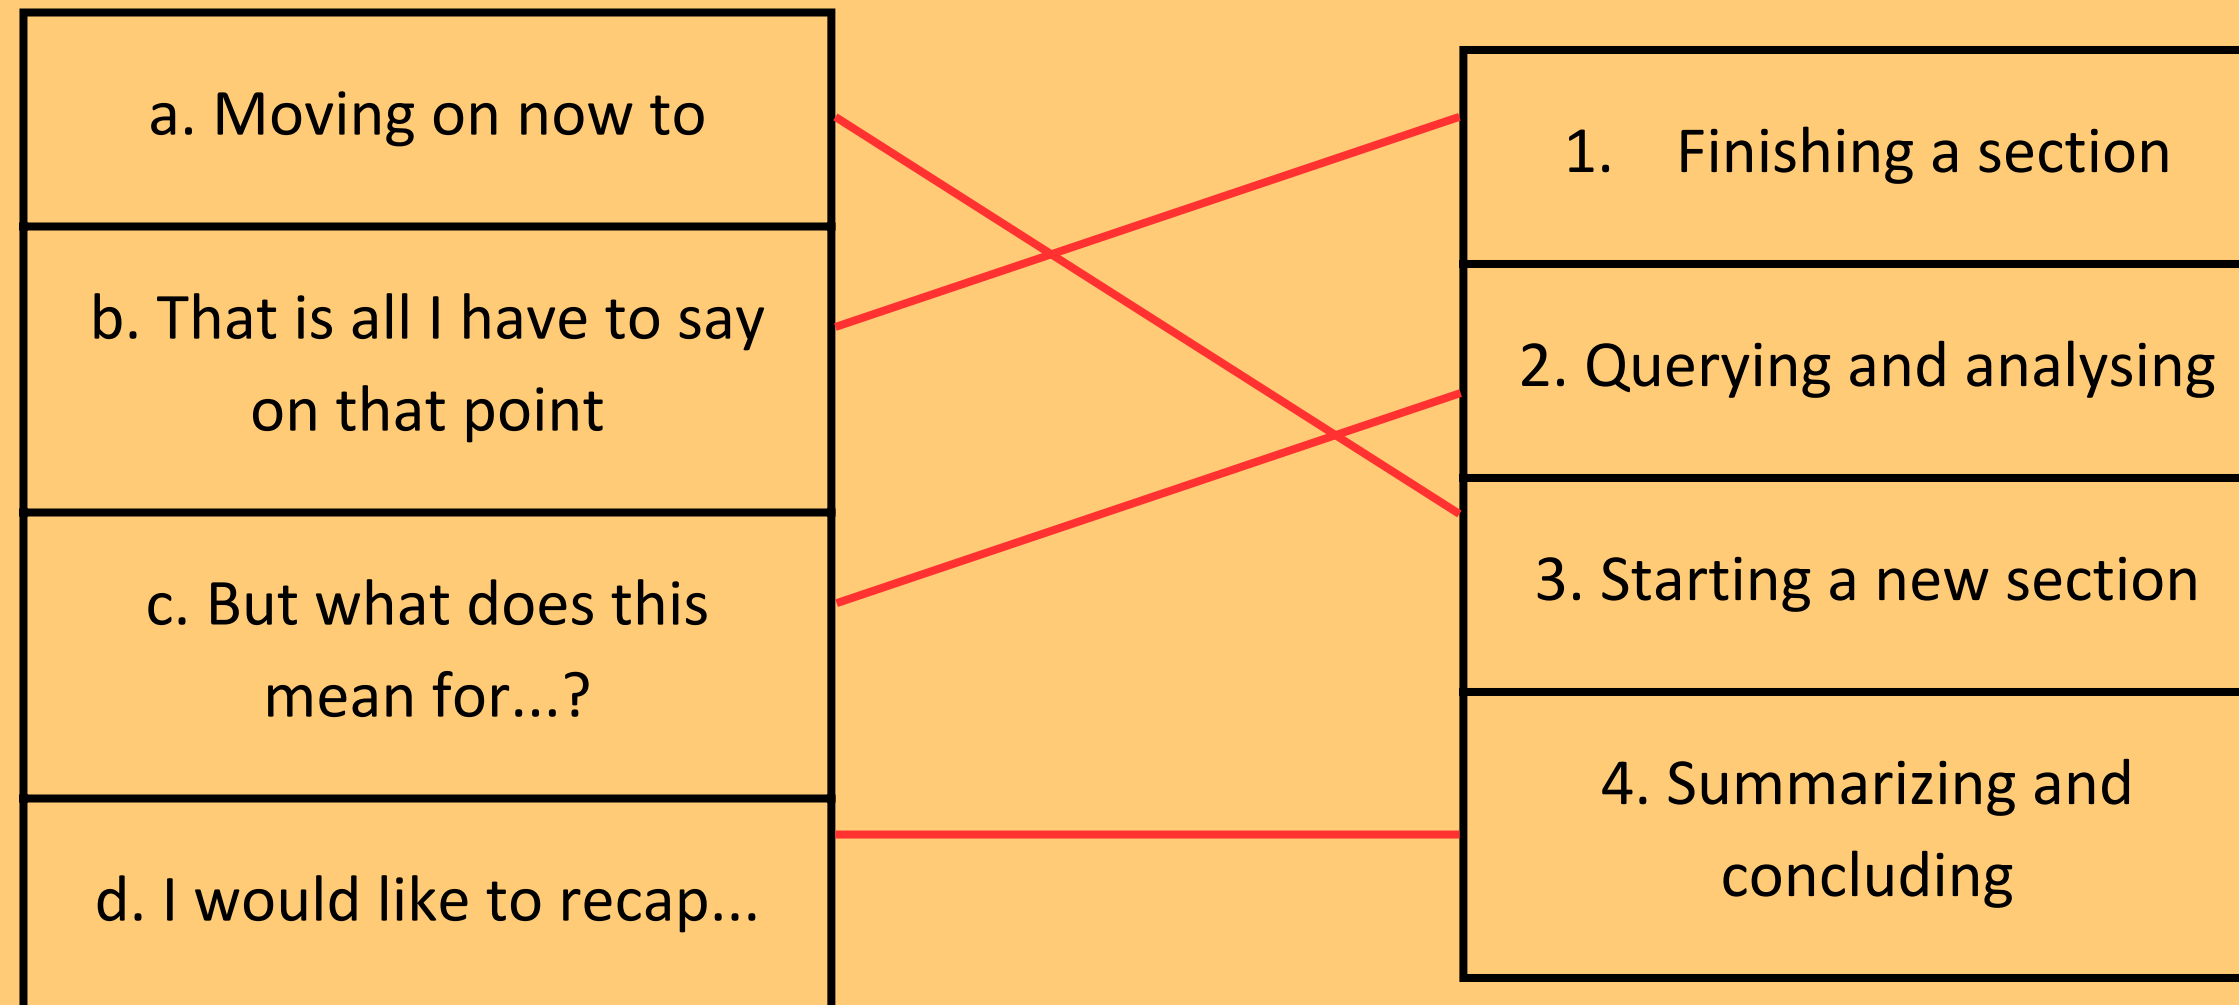

1. Finishing a section

2. Querying and analysing

3. Starting a new section

4. Summarizing and concluding

ANSWER

THESE 4 SIMPLE SENTENCE STARTERS ALLOW YOU TO CREATE A CONCRETE, CONCISE, EASILY REPEATABLE PITCH ON THE SPOT IF NEEDED:

- What if you could...

This sentence paint a picture of what is possible through your product, service, or idea

- For example...

Makes things concrete and demonstrates existing traction

- So that...

Connects to a meaningful, relevant goal for the listener

- And that is not all...

Demonstrated potential, additional future opportunities

The image features a light blue background with decorative geometric elements. In the top-left corner, there is a series of parallel diagonal lines in a teal color, partially enclosed by a curved teal line. In the bottom-right corner, there is a large teal arc and several parallel diagonal lines in the same teal color.

BODY LANGUAGE & GESTURES

DELIVER YOUR PRESENTATION WITH CONFIDENCE

A confident delivery is crucial in a presentation because it allows you to engage and helps your audience to trust your expertise.

Use your tone, pitch and body language efficiently to ensure a smooth delivery.

LET'S WATCH THIS VIDEO

4 essential body language tips

QUESTION:

Recall the four (4) important types of body language based the video.

ANSWER

Recall the four (4) important types of body language based the video.

1. Keep your body open
2. Have your palms open
3. Get comfortable with the stage
4. Do not touch the podium

BODY LANGUAGE & GESTURES

Walking around

Moving around the stage can help capture and maintain the audience's attention. It also allows you to engage different parts of the audience. Just be sure to move with purpose and avoid pacing.

Pointing

Use a pointed finger to highlight key points on a slide or direct the audience's attention to a specific area. Be mindful to use this gesture sparingly to avoid appearing aggressive.

Using props

This can help illustrate your points and make your presentation more engaging. For example, using a product sample or a model can provide a tangible reference for your audience.

BODY LANGUAGE & GESTURES

Walking around

Moving around the stage can help capture and maintain the audience's attention. It also allows you to engage different parts of the audience. Just be sure to move with purpose and avoid pacing.

Pointing

Use a pointed finger to highlight key points on a slide or direct the audience's attention to a specific area. Be mindful to use this gesture sparingly to avoid appearing aggressive.

Using props

This can help illustrate your points and make your presentation more engaging. For example, using a product sample or a model can provide a tangible reference for your audience.

7 HAND GESTURES GUARANTEED TO GET PEOPLE TO LISTEN TO YOU

I'M CERTAIN

Why it works: Anthropologist David Givens found that this gesture conveys assertiveness, both in humans and throughout the animal kingdom.

Use it: When you know what you're talking about and have a strong directive to give.

I'M BEING OPEN

Why it works: Authors Barbara and Allan Pease explain that open palms are associated with truth and honesty, showing your audience you have nothing to hide.

Use it: When you want to be fully transparent. By putting it all out there, you welcome people in.

I'M CONFIDENT IN MYSELF

Why it works: Steepling is a strong display of power and reflects higher-order thought processes like problem-solving.

Use it: When you want to show or share your wisdom on a certain subject matter.

I HAVE A BIG IDEA

Why it works: According to body language expert Dr. Carol Kinsey Goman, it visually conveys something grand and communicates your enthusiasm to others.

Use it: When you're introducing a new thought that just might be a breakthrough.

THIS IS THE WAY IT IS

Why it works: The gesture embodies the abstract idea of rigid, unwavering precision, physically grounding the message for the audience.

Use it: When you want to make a precise point or show your strong stance on a topic.

[I MEAN IT] FROM THE BOTTOM OF MY HEART

Why it works: Researchers Parzuchowski and Wojciszke found that this gesture increases others' perception of honesty and the honesty shown in one's own behavior.

Use it: When you truly believe in what you're saying and want to convey that to others.

FINGER COUNTING

Why it works: The movement makes your points easier for listeners to remember and serves as a nonverbal anchor for your list.

Use it: To help people follow along when you have several key items to highlight.

The image features a light blue background with decorative geometric elements. In the top-left corner, there is a series of parallel diagonal lines in a teal color, with a curved line segment extending from them. In the bottom-right corner, there is a large, thin teal arc and several parallel diagonal lines. The text "STRESS & TONE" is centered in the middle of the image.

STRESS & TONE

STRESS & TONE

Pauses

Pauses during your speech can be used to help you slow down your speech and will give time for you to figure out what to say next and it will allow you to vary the speed of your delivery. It can also be used to deter the “uuhmm”s and “aaahh”s.

Stress

When you have words that could help highlight the point of your speech, stressing on the words can help listeners refocus and follow your speech. To stress, just say the word louder than other words.

Project

Speak loudly enough to be heard clearly by everyone in the room, but avoid shouting. Adjust your volume based on the size of the room and the audience.

The background features four decorative geometric patterns in the corners. The top-left corner has a series of parallel diagonal lines in a light blue-grey color. The top-right corner contains a cluster of overlapping semi-circles in yellow, red, teal, and dark blue. The bottom-left corner also features a cluster of overlapping semi-circles in red, teal, and dark blue. The bottom-right corner has a series of parallel diagonal lines in a light blue-grey color, mirroring the top-left pattern.

THANK YOU